ISSUE 10 ► NOVEMBER • DECEMBER 2020

WELCOME TO LINDENHURST!

We are delighted to welcome Caitlin Sempowich as the new Information Services and Community Engagement Coordinator. Caitlin brings an impressive background in outreach services, partnerships, and programs with her, along with nine years of experience at Cold Spring Harbor Library. She will be an integral piece to the Library connecting with more of our local organizations, businesses, and residents. Please stop by to say hello the next time you visit the Library.

STONY BROOK STUDENT INTERNS JOIN THE LIBRARY

Meghan Dillon

The Library is happy to partner with Stony Brook University School of Health to provide two Social Worker Interns, Meghan Dillon and Winy de los Santos. Patrons can request one-on-one assistance completing forms and applications, referrals to mental health resources, and other topics. Meghan is available on Mondays from 5:30 -8:30 pm, and Wednesdays from 10:00 am - 1:00 pm via Zoom or conference calls. You can email her directly at Meghan.dillon@stonybrook.edu. Winy is available Tuesdays from 10:00 am - 11:45 am, and also from 1:00 -4:00 pm. You can email her directly at winny.delossantos@stonybrook.edu

Winy de los Santos

CONGRATULATIONS!

Since January, the Library has bid farewell to five retiring staff members: Craig Pullen and Eileen Feynman worked as librarians in the Information Services Department, headed by Department Coordinator Paula Bornstein. Lisa Smith worked as a librarian in our Youth Services Department, and Jean Rahola was a library clerk at the front desk. We miss them all already, and on behalf of the Board of Trustees and Staff, we wish them an abundance of health and new adventures.

SAVE THE GREAT SOUTH BAY

The organization Save the Great South Bay recently recognized the Lindenhurst Library as its first "Bay Friendly Library". The Co-Chair of the Library's Sustainability Team, Sara Fiorenzo said, "We are so proud to receive this certification as a Bay Friendly Library. The Library recognizes that we are in a community greatly impacted by the South Bay, and we want to help ensure the health and resiliency of the Bay, for our future generations, both by having a healthy yard, and by educating library patrons through our programs." Look for upcoming programs showing how your backyard can also become bay friendly!

The Library has two blogs that are updated weekly if not daily, with lots of up-to-date information about programs, services, reading recommendations, and more. Between the Shelves, (<https://betweentheshelves.blog/>) is written by our adult librarians. Check us Out (<https://checkusout.blog/>) is written by our youth services librarians, and features content for youth, educators, and caregivers.

GOT ZOOM?

Do you need some help setting up a Zoom account, or working its different features? We can help! Call the Information Services department to set an appointment with one of our librarians. Please bring your device of choice with you (phone, tablet, laptop.)

Extended Live Tutoring Hours at Live-brary.com with Brainfuse!

You can now access Brainfuse live tutors from 10:00 am to 11 pm, seven days a week. This gives all residents with an active library card access to free homework help, including live, online tutoring and test prep in a wide range of subjects for K-12 students AND adult learners. Want a demo? Call the Library to set up an appointment with one of our librarians. Please bring your device of choice with you (phone, tablet, laptop) and your library card.

A Message from the Director

Dear Community Members,

Thank you for supporting the Library's Annual Trustee Election in September. Board President Jane Dietz was re-elected to a five-year term of office.

Final design and engineering plans will be sent to Albany for SED approval by the end of this month for the Building Expansion and Renovation Project. The display cabinet in the front lobby now features our current design plans, so stop by to see what the future of library service will bring!

As we head into the colder months, I want to thank you for helping us keep our local community safe by adhering to mask wearing guidelines and social distancing efforts. We do have computers, copiers, and the fax/scanner available for use. Need to sit and study? There are limited tables available in the children's, teen, and adult areas for use. We just ask you to be mindful of shorter time limits for building use, in order to help decrease potential issues with air quality. The Library did increase the amount of fresh air that our HVAC system pulls into the building, and installed MERV 13 filters, but spending less time rather than more time inside, is also helpful to all - especially with reduced occupancy limits in place. We currently can accommodate no more than 35 patrons at a time within the building.

Our staff are creating and sharing some fabulous virtual programs that you should register for under the "News and Events" section of the website! We would love to "see" you attend a virtual program - including cooking classes, craft and hobby classes, book discussions, concerts, storytimes, teen community service and more.

Finally, check out this issue for some special outdoor in-person programs, such as our growing in popularity walking club, and other seasonal walks to view the upcoming holiday decorations and lights that I've been told will be even more impressive than last year's beautiful displays!

Have an idea for a program, book discussion, or garden program? Contact info@lindenhurstlibrary.org to tell us what types of programs you would like to see in the coming months.

Remember, we are all in this together, and your Library is here for you!

HOW TO REGISTER FOR PROGRAMS:

To help you find programs for all ages, content is grouped into subject areas (cooking, book discussions, craft classes, entertainment, sustainability, etc.) Please adhere to age ranges listed for youth programs, as classes are created for the developmental and social abilities of each unique age range. Adult classes are for patrons 18 and over. For programs that say advanced registration is required, you can register in-person, call us on the phone, use our online chat button on our website, or register independently on our program calendar. Simply go to www.lindenhurstlibrary.org and click on the "News and Events" tab, then the "Program Calendar" to find the date of the program you are registering for. Click on the program title to begin registering. Classes with kits are limited to Lindenhurst Memorial Library cardholders, and require your library barcode for registration. Unless otherwise noted, most programs will take place using the Zoom online platform. After you complete the registration process, a link to attend the Zoom event will be emailed to you 24 hours prior to the start of the program. Do you have a special program request, that you would like us to consider? Email info@lindenhurstlibrary.org to share your requests and ideas.
