PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF LINDENHURST HIGH SCHOOL, LINDENHURST, N. Y.

REAIZING that, largely through their time, efforts and interest, we Seniors were enabled to publish this edition of the Bulldog.

WE, therefore, dedicate this annual to Robert Little and Henry Michel, advisors of the class of 1942.

EDWARD W. BOWER, Ph.D.

Pea Ridge Masonic Normal, Ped.B., Carnegie College, A.B., Oskaloosa College, A.M., Ph.D., Supervising Principal at Lindenhurst High School.

CLARA M. SAMSEL, B.S.

Syracuse University, Vice-Principal at Lindenhurst High School.

BE LOYAL

*In the strife of Truth with error,
In the fight of Right with wrong,
In the test of True Justice with grants;
Be Loyal, to your PARENTS!*

*When Christianity stands on the threshold,
When Paganism seems about to rule,
When the sword seems mightier than the pen;
Be Loyal, to your FELLOWMEN!*

*When the Right stands on the scaffold,
When the Wrong sits on the throne,
When 'tis hard to be a 'RIGHTER';
Be Loyal, to your SCHOOL AND HOME!*

*In bearing one another's burdens,
In the pain men must bear,
In spiritual consciousness of 'BEING';
Be Loyal, to your COUNTRY FAIR!*

*Surely, sorrows will throng about us,
Truly, our faith must not waver,
As we fight to save civilization;
Alas! Be Loyal to your SAVIOUR!*

EDWARD W. BOWER

TEACHERS SWIM, TRAVEL, WORK AT JONES BEACH

TEACHERS as well as pupils have their favorite sports, hobbies, and plans for the summer vacation; now let us see what the faculty does with its spare time.

That enthusiastic Dodger fan, Robert Little, science director, roots for this team at all times, even while working at Jones Beach; Perry Dalton, another member of the science department, likes sailing, and therefore enlisted in the United States Navy. Dr. Fay Pierce, head of the science department, prefers spending his summers visiting historic spots.

Miss Lauretta Robinson, citizenship teacher, finds enough time from her studies to travel. Morgan Rose, junior high history teacher, plans to attend New York University to earn his Masters Degree; while Henry Michel, high school history teacher, is content to tutor and work at Roulston's in Copiaque.

A teacher in the commercial department, Miss Isabelle Downey, who became Mrs. Reginald Korte, plans to settle down at her home in Southampton this summer. Another newly-wed, Miss Blanche Pinnell, shorthand teacher, will join her husband Lt. Harvey Leich, in California. While attending New York University, Miss Encie Babcock, typing teacher, will find time to be an active member of a Sag Harbor golf club.

Hall Downey, head of the English department, plans to continue his studies either at New York State College or Columbia University; Miss Louise Samsel, another English pedagog, will try to catch big fish in the Canadian rivers. Although Miss Bertha Marsh enjoys lounging in the sun, most of her vacation will be spent at Buffalo University. Miss Mary Jane Erkins will spend her vacation hostelling through New England with her sister.

Miss Estelle Golding, French teacher, plans to spend most of her time between bicycling, swimming and advanced summer courses. The German teacher, Charles Fisher, who likes a well played game of chess, is looking forward to a trip to his native Pennsylvania. Milton Sauer, Latin teacher, whose favorite pastime is a good tennis match, has made no definite plans as yet.

Vernon Behrns, mathematics teacher, has entered the service of the U. S. as an assistant engineer. Mrs. Etta Easton, junior high math teacher, will spend her vacation at her home in Babylon, going to the beach and practicing music.

Edward Hopkins, physical education instructor will work at Jones Beach, while Mason Papps, his assistant, will probably attend Cortland State Teachers' College to obtain his Bachelor of Science degree. Miss Marcella O'Shea, girls' athletic director, likes to swim and ride horseback at Hecksher State Park where she is the playground supervisor.

Our home economics teacher, Miss Vera Flynn will spend her vacation swimming and canoeing in New Hampshire. Miss Ruth Jones, her assistant, plans to take it easy near Lake Ontario playing golf and tennis.

Two more teachers who will join the ranks of summer workers at Jones Beach are Thomas Lahey and Louis Hirsch, both junior high teachers.

Miss Helen Beebe, head librarian, plans to attend New York State College and will do her bit towards a victory garden in her spare time; Miss Clara Samsel, vice-principal, while vacationing on her farm in Oswego, will find time to crochet and add to her stamp collection.

Miss Frances Hoffman, art teacher, has decided to attend Columbia University to receive her Master's degree.

Last, but not least, is Frank Campbell, industrial arts instructor, who expects to go to Beacon to teach.

The senior class joins the rest of the school in bidding farewell to Miss Laurette Robinson, Mr. Vernon Behrns, Mr. Frank Campbell, Mr. Perry Dalton, Mrs. Reginald Korte and Mrs. Harvey Leich.

ESCOLARES MAYORES

SENIORS POSSESS VIVID HISTORY

IN the fall of '38 over one hundred Freshmen organized to form the Class of '42. Under the capable guidance of Miss Encie Babcock and President John Willemesen, the class sponsored a cake sale in December of that year. This event was followed by the Spring Hop early in the succeeding April.

The following year Miss Loretta Robinson joined Miss Babcock as co-adviser; while Betty Younge took over the office of president. In November of '39, the class sponsored the highly amusing Kiddy Kar Polo, which had as its participants the Faculty and Varsity. Spurred on with the success of this affair, the class, as Sophomores, staged two more dances, namely the Sweetheart Swing and the April Fool's Dance.

In their Junior Year, the class, under the advisership of Miss Robinson and Miss Frances Hoffman, elected Michael Poveromo to the presidency. They decided, after considerable debate, to set a precedent by holding their Prom in March instead of May. The Prom proved to be a very colorful affair, since its theme was an old Spanish Fiesta.

Finally, with nothing but successful affairs behind them, the Class of '42 began its Senior year. Betty Younge was once more elected to be president of this group of students. She, along with the members of the Program Committee, guided the Seniors through many trying times. Robert Little and Henry Michel became the new advisers. The program for the year included: six football victory dances, a Pigskin Prom, a Christmas Party, and the Valentine Dance. A minstrel was also planned, but due to a lack of cooperation, it was abandoned. For the final activity of their high school career, the Seniors presented a Sink or Swim Dance early in May.

SENIORS WILL CORNY PUNS, NOISE, WIT AND GIGGLES

RECOLLECTIONS AND REFLECTIONS

*"And moving thro' a mirror clear
That hangs before her all the year,
Shadows of the world appear."*

WHILE gazing into our mirror many thoughts of our high school days return to us. We wonder if Ro Allen's giggle is the same; if Frank Nash is still Honey Michel's heart's fulfillment; if George Kravis and John Lohman have put Harry James and Tommy Dorsey out of business; if Ed Murphy has gone back to his native Hackensack; if Audrey Lloyd can still laugh off her troubles; if William Frederick is now a Broadway stage manager; if Florence Flynn and Eleanor Cheslak are still the athletic type; if Joe Laurita still spells strength "strenght"; and if Muriel Roskey is still the expert dressmaker she was.

Has Marie Schlosser added many new recordings to her collection; has Ann Carilli cut her beautiful jet tresses; has Frank Valentini's particular brand of humor remained untarnished; have Bertha Semeran and Katherine Schade lost their meticulous manner; has Paul Curran's walk gained any speed; has Elizabeth Lallinger remained the success she was in school; has Nunzio Grimaldi sold Hollywood any of his mystery thrillers; did Dallas Tuff lose her weepy laugh; is Vivian Davis still Tuffy's inseparable pal and can Gloria Franke still write swell articles?

Are Fred and Oscar Koehler the quiet boys they were in school; are Frieda Nottveit and Anita Moeller still as mischievous; is Charles Davidson still master of the ivories and Louis Juliano master of the skins; are Louis Bernhard and Charles Sussman still sports writers; are George Dinger, Janet Heling and David Schneider still ardent camera fiends; is Marjorie Stuewe still as full of pep; is Isabelle Coleman still shy; is George Karn still a reckless driver; and do Tommy Chmiel, Joe Balogh and Henry Caplan work as fast now as they did setting up pins?

In the past years have Lee Evertz and Lillian Hirsch grown any; has Pete Halbin become a successful engineer; has Fred Schneider given up his love of corny music; did Max Halebsky take any more scholastic honors; did petite Patty Taylor retain her devilish ways; has Natalie Prentice sung her way to fame; and have Grace Breunig and Louise Ferraro remained the fashion plates they were?

There will also be reflected back to us by the mirror of time memories of Mildred Kravis and Lou Walz's ability at cutting rugs; of John and Fran Willemsen's long lectures on golf; of Herb Torn's and Lou Strum's flashy color combinations, of Genny Karnik and Eleanor Byrne's ringing laughter; of Electra Panke's attractiveness; of Smitty's crew cut; of Marge Kriegbaum and Betty Moore's giggling in history class; of Don Weir's book reports; of Marie Liebl's assembly announcements; of Walter Weiss, Charles Carlin, and Eugene Steiger's bashfulness toward the fairer sex; of Betty Younger's skill at conducting meetings; of Henry Moore's witty remarks; of June Morgan's drawings; and of the laughter in May Lynch's Irish eyes.

Does George Zatyko still carry gum; does Cliff Galvin still wear sporty clothes; does Steve Zatyko ever get to work on time; does Ed Beck still blow his sax; does Dotty Aardsma remember any of her History C; does Rose Abbe still have her sunny disposition; and does Jeanne Voss still wear her pompadour hair style?

JUNIORS HAVE MARCH PROM; SELECT RINGS

AFTER a successful Freshman year, during which the memorable Turkey Twilight Hop and Ship Shape Swing took place, the Class of '43 entered its Sophomore year with a renewed and encouraged spirit.

Aided by Alfred Anderson, their adviser, they sponsored a Lindy Blackout Dance which netted them a reasonable profit.

Finally, as leaders for the Junior year, they elected John Blankenhorn, president; Helen Sachse, vice-president; Elsie Holub, secretary; and Joseph Shiffert, treasurer. Alfred Pfeiffer, Francine Holland, and Michael Poveromo were chosen G.O. representatives; while Miss Ruth Jones and Vernon Behrns acted as co-advisers.

The annual Junior Prom was held in March with the Esquires providing sweet and swing rhythm. A "Winter Carnival" theme, with soft lights, snowy slopes, and sparkling snowflakes, was carried out.

Another venture of the class was to select their class rings in 1942, since they feared prices would be too high in 1943.

CLASS OF '44 GIVES MARDI-GRAS IN MAY

TO start off its career, the Class of '44 sponsored a gay Christmas party for the class members and their guests. Their next venture, under the advisership of Miss Clara Redmond and Miss Lois Holm, was the Freshman Patriotic Dance.

Encouraged by their first year's success, the Sophomores elected Assunta D'Addezio, president; James Souran, vice-president; Clara Baubin, secretary; and Lawrence Amberger, treasurer. Miss Estelle Golding and Milton Sauer were chosen as co-advisers; while Bernice Diamond, Joan Martell, and Miriam Goldman represented the class in the G.O.

As their first event of this year, the class sponsored a South Sea Island Swing Dance in the gym with music by Harold Haudenschield and his orchestra.

At the time of this writing, the Sophs were making plans to hold a Mardi-Gras sometime in May. Some of the highlights were to be a marriage bureau, a jail, and cash prizes.

FROSH SPONSOR FILM, FIRST EVENT OF YEAR

OVER one hundred Freshmen bewildered, as usual, assembled in the early fall of '41 to elect their class advisers and officers. The result of the election showed that the girls had a lead over the boys as far as the supervision of the class activities was concerned, for Estelle Beck was chosen president; Audrey Schneider, vice-president; Irene Volker, secretary; and Mary Deller, treasurer. Also elected were Miss Vera Flynn and Morgan Rose to act as advisers; while Charles Tanner and Robert Matthews were chosen to represent the class of '45 in the G.O.

Unusually dormant, as compared to previous Freshmen classes, the lower classmen finally gave consideration to sponsoring a moving picture show in the early part of May. At the time of this writing, complete plans were not made, but it was hoped that the feature picture would be "The Streets of New York" starring Jackie Cooper.

ACTIVIDADES

G.O. ORGANIZES LATE; NASH BECOMES PRESIDENT

THIS school year the General Organization was unusually late in organizing, since three months had passed before the election of officers and representatives took place December 5.

Results of the election showed that Frank Nash was selected president; Leonore Evertz was to act as vice-president; while Miriam Goldman and Francine Holland became secretary and treasurer respectively. Later in the year, Elizabeth Lallinger was chosen to fill the vacancy left by Leonore Evertz upon her graduation.

Elected to represent the high school of 1941-42 were as follows: Seniors, Oscar Koehler, Marjorie Stuewe; Juniors, Alfred Pfeiffer, Michael Poveromo; Sophomores, Bernice Diamond, Joan Martell; Freshmen, Charles Tanner, Robert Matthews. Theodore Evertz, Patricia Burke, and Elaine Pinter represented the junior high. Advisers were Miss Isabelle Downey and Edward Hopkins.

One of its many contributions to the benefit of the students was the payment for some of the year's entertaining assembly programs.

BROADCAST HAS NEW STAFF; WINS HONOR

JUNE is the month during which the Broadcast takes pleasure in announcing its changes in the staff, and so, without exception, the names of the 1941-42 staff were made public as follows: Francine Holland, editor-in-chief; Gloria Franke, news editor; Louis Walz, boys' sports editor; Jay Robertson, assistant boys' sports editor; Miriam Goldman, girls' sports editor; Helen Sachse, fashion editor; Janet Heling, exchange editor; Fred Schneider, transportation manager; Paul Aardsma, circulation manager; Dorothy Merkel, advertising manager; and Lillian Hirsch, secretary.

During the year new features, such as, "Fashionlites" and the "Scholastic Roto", were added in hopes of making the newspaper more interesting and attractive. Another important event was winning third honors at the Columbia Press Conference.

Hall E. Downey became the new literary adviser; while Miss Isabelle Downey and Miss Encie Babcock continued as financial and circulation advisers.

DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES 'WITS' END, MYSTERY

BEGINNING the season with an inadequate number of masculine members, the Masqueters were handicapped in the choice of their productions. They did, however, elect Marjorie Kriegbaum, president; Max Halebsky, vice-president; Dallas Tuff, secretary; and Fred Stoiber, production manager.

In October, the club presented a series of humorous skits as an assembly program. Because of insufficient time, the actors couldn't give the choral reading which they had prepared.

Early in the spring under the direction of Hall E. Downey and Robert Little, co-advisers, the Masqueters presented "Wits' End", a one-act play, by Wall Spence. The cast of this hair-raising drama included: Dr. Damon, Max Halebsky; Della, Mary Matthews; Janet, Marie Liebl; Mrs. Marsch, Jeanne Hadley; Mrs. Reed, Marjorie Stuewe; Anne Collins, Vivian Davis; Warren Steele, Paul Curran; Biff Collins, Fred Schneider; and Sheila, Dorothy Merkel.

DELTA SIGMA INITIATES EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

SINCE the 1941 June graduation had taken a majority of members from the portals of the Delta Sigma, Gloria Franke and Max Halebsky, sole survivors, discovered that they had to initiate eight students to fill the vacancies. The students chosen were Juniors and Seniors, who had the highest scholastic rating among the college entrance and academic courses.

The club, which now includes Janet Heling, Lillian Hirsch, Elizabeth Lallinger, Mildred Kravis, Marie Liebl, Francine Holland, Oscar Koehler, and Paul Aardsma, decided that they wanted, not only fraternity pins, but also, to visit "Broadway" and one of the current plays. Therefore to raise the funds, the Delta Sigma, with the aid of Robert Little and Charles Fisher, the advisers, sponsored a movie, "The Scarlet Pimpernel", from which thirty-five dollars profit was realized.

Heading this organization are: Max Halebsky, president; Gloria Franke, vice-president; and Lillian Hirsch, secretary.

LIBRARY CLUB HELPS IN GENERAL DESK WORK

UNDER the direction of Miss Helen Beebe, the Library Club was reorganized in the fall with seventeen members. The purpose of this organization is to do general desk work in the library, such as mending, stamping, and checking books. During the year the members helped to ready the new shipment of books for the use of the student body.

With the assistance of Miss Frances Hoffman of the art department, Miss Beebe and the members prepared an attractive display in the trophy case for Book Week. Book marks were distributed to the student at this time.

It was also due to the cooperation of this club that the library remained open for the first time during regents week in January.

Officers of the Library Club are: John Smith, president; Paul Aardsma, vice-president; and Peggy LeBer, secretary.

BETA GAMMA SELLS PINS TO RAISE MONEY

UNDER Miss Encie Babcock's leadership, the Beta Gamma was organized to stimulate good scholarship and to recognize the students who excel in the studies of the commercial department. This year's membership included the following: May Lynch, Muriel Roskey, Mildred Michel, Eleanor Byrne, Audrey Lloyd, Marjorie Kriegbaum, and one lone gentleman — Joseph Balogh.

Although the club remained on the quiet side most of the year, the members did sell basketball pins and planned to sponsor a movie in the latter part of spring.

The members of this club did, however, elect officers to guide them through the year. The people elected are as follows: May Lynch, president; Mildred Michel, secretary; and Joseph Balogh, treasurer.

FASHION CLUB GIVES ANNUAL SHOW IN MAY

GRACEFUL carriage, tactful make-up application, knowledge of the latest creations and of how to wear them to the best advantage are some of the things the girls of the Fashion Club are learning.

Membership of this organization is limited to twenty girls who must be either Juniors or Seniors. Formerly, new members were admitted on a majority vote, but the latest group of girls had to enter the hard way, via an embarrassing episode of wearing too much make-up during class periods. In addition, they had to write a long sentence 75 times.

Guided by Miss Frances Hoffman, the adviser, the club presented its annual fashion show in May. This date gave the girls an opportunity to model the newest spring and summer styles.

Officers of the Fashion Club are: Anita Moeller, president; Audrey Lloyd, vice-president; and Grace Breunig, secretary.

MEMBERS ABANDON CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

UNITED States Commissioner of Education, John Studebaker, suggested upholding public morale by keeping informed with current happenings. The result in Lindenhurst High School? ---- Milton Sauer's Current Events Club.

This club met each week to discuss both foreign and domestic problems, or any topic which held the public interest at the time of their meeting. Each member tried to contribute something worthwhile to the conversation that took place when the club convened.

Although the fifteen members were boys, some girls occasionally dropped in to discuss the latest news. The members welcomed anyone who had helpful facts to add to their knowledge.

As the year progressed, though, interest in the club waned, and so, it slowly went out of existence.

NEW MAKE-UP CLUB OPEN TO JUNIOR HIGH

SINCE Lindenhurst High School has never had a theatrical make-up application club before, the new club, which was added to the list of perennial organizations open to the junior high school, proved to be very popular among the lower classmen.

The club, under the supervision of Miss Mary Jane Erkins, has a membership of over twenty enthusiastic boys and girls. Miss Erkins is a suitable adviser for this activity, since she learned the art of theatrical make-up application through a college course.

Each week during the extra-curricular period, Miss Erkins transformed someone of the club into an old or alien personality. While applying the grease paint, she explained to the interested members, the various technicalities involved in the administration of it.

GLEE CLUB APPEARS IN SEVERAL PROGRAMS

CONTINUING its policy of having sessions during the extra-curricular period instead of the former process of holding meetings in a different period each week, the Glee Club, under the supervision of Erwin Tropp, has come to the conclusion of another successful season.

Collaborating with Mrs. Easton's Folk Singing Club, the school orchestra, and the Junior Players, the girls of the Glee Club once again produced the program of Christmas carols and tableau entitled "The Nativity". This time, though, it was presented twice, first, on the evening of December 22 for the enjoyment of the parents; then, in the assembly December 23 for the enjoyment of the student body.

Having successfully completed that pleasant exhibition of their skill, the members of the Glee Club worked particularly hard, preparing a group of selections which they presented in the extensive program produced by the entire music department in the annual Spring Concert early in June.

SCHOOL BAND STAGES 2 MAJOR CONCERTS

DURING the course of the school year, the Band, under the direction of Erwin A. Tropp, has greatly increased its instrumentation.

In the early part of December, Glen Brown was the guest soloist at the Band's winter concert. A large spring concert, which included much patriotic music, was presented in the auditorium in the latter part of May. Five separate musical organizations participated in this festival.

The Band has engaged in such activities as leading the parade on Decoration Day. They also attended a rehearsal of the National Orchestral Association at Carnegie Hall, the annual festival of bands in conjunction with the New York State Music Association, and playing for the student body in assembly.

JUNIOR PLAYERS GIVE FOUR MAJOR PLAYS

A GAIN this year, under the leadership of Miss Bertha Marsh, adviser; Louis Hirsch, scenery manager; and Thomas Sharp, chairman; the Junior Players have contributed much to school entertainment. This year, also, the Make-up Club has lent invaluable assistance to the members and advisers by applying make-up and helping with the costumes.

Four plays were given this year. In a November assembly, "Taming of Sue" was presented; while three plays, "Not Quite Such A Goose", "Princess Marries The Page", and "The Old Sleuth", were given on the evening of May 2 for the benefit of the parents.

During club periods, the group worked diligently on speech drills, characterizations, rehearsals, and pantomines.

Because Tom Sharp, Wilbur Bittner, Sylvia McCutcheon, and Ruth Bittner are graduating from the ninth grade, the club will lose four of its best members. However, there are many promising members who will fill the vacant positions.

AVIATION CLUB BUILDS MODELS FOR DEFENSE

ELECTING Fred Stoiber, president, and Paul Willemen, secretary, the Aviation Club, known as the Lindy High Flyers, started its present career under the supervision of Frank Campbell. Their aim is to supply the United States Navy with a quota of fifty different model airplanes for the education of the air cadets. These models are made exactly to scale, so that the men in the air corps can learn the shapes of the various models in order to be able to distinguish our planes from those of the enemy. These airplanes are made of Idaho pine and are finished in black lacquer.

Lindenhurst High School is only one of the many schools all over the country busy filling their airplane quotas set by the Navy. This is their way of contributing to national defense.

Inspectors of the work accomplished by the Lindy High Flyers are: Harry Logan, Russel Smith, and Henry Pebler.

PING PONG CLUB OPEN TO BOTH BOYS, GIRLS

LAST year, for the first time in the history of Lindenhurst High School, a ping pong club was organized under the direction of Alfred Anderson, which proved to be quite popular. In the fall, the club, increased in membership, was reorganized with Perry Dalton as its adviser.

The newly formed club was opened, not only to the boys this year, but also to the girls. During the season, they planned to have the usual contests between the various schools, which allowed only boys to enter; while the girls were able to participate in the interscholastic matches.

With such excellent and experienced material as Vincent Taylor, Michael Poveromo, Henry Caplin, Clifford Galvin, Frank Valentini, Francis Willemsen, and Jay Robertson, still remaining from last year's squad, Mr. Dalton looked forward to coaching a team of champions as far as the tournament games were concerned, but alack and alas, those bright prospects faded, when the season ended with a record of two wins and four losses.

CHESS PLAYERS CLOSE SEASON WITH 1 WIN

DUE to the vacancy left by Alfred Anderson, former mathematics teacher of Lindenhurst High School and co-adviser of the Chess Club, Charles Fisher became the sole adviser of the club, which started this year's career with approximately twenty-nine members. Electing Oscar Koehler president, the club began to make plans to enter the tournaments held among the school teams which belong to the Long Island Chess Association.

Everything seemed to be all right until the club lost its champions, Max Halebsky and Oscar Koehler in January, but still the players anticipated success in the tournaments.

Finally, a team composed of Robert Baro, Richard and George Karn, John Hosey, Steve Zatyko, and Paul Aardsma, played with teams from Baldwin, Northport, Huntington, and Sewanhaka. When the last game was played, the hopes of the Lindy boys had disappeared, for the results showed that they had won only one game, and that over was the Northport team.

ONE evening, late in the fall of '41, several members of the Bulldog staff devoted their time and efforts to the selecting of a suitable theme for the coming edition of the yearbook.

Armed with paper and pencils, they began to meditate, and so, many ideas were born that night. Some were original, some would have added great attraction to the book, while others were humorous, and still others were ridiculous.

With these many thoughts filling the air, the staff became bewildered, almost to the point of giving up until a later date. After a brief moment of silence, someone burst forth with, "Why not use Pan-Americanism as our theme?" More discussion took place, until every member present agreed that the 1942 Bulldog should have Pan-Americanism as its basic principle, around which the other features of the book would revolve.

JUEGOS ATHLETICOS

BULLDOGS BECOME CHAMPS; PETE HALBIN WINS TROPHY

WITH the return of Pete Halbin, the Lindy "5" was rated as a strong contender to take the Section I banner. The team featured five varsity men in "Shorty" Willemesen, John Blankenhorn, Sid Ellis, John Smith, and Pete Halbin. Ample substitutes were to be found in Kienle, Walz, Brosan, Goltz, Kamman, and Jaffie. This year, as before, Coach Mason Papp's theory was that of teamwork rather than that of individual stars.

In their non-league games, the Bulldogs outscored all of their four opponents and had a four-nothing record as the Section I race opened.

Jan. 9 the Green Wave travelled to meet the Patchogue Red-Raiders. True to form, the Green and White "went to town." In the second half, however, the attack bogged down and the final score read 30-23, in favor of Lindenhurst. Pete Halbin lead the scoring with 14 points.

Jan. 16 had Islip as the Bulldogs' visitors. Continuing their winning ways, Lindy went on to win by the score of 40-25. Johnny Smith came through with 13 points to lead the Wave to its victory.

Jan. 23 the Lindy Bulldogs met a supposedly weak Amityville quintet. With a little over two minutes remaining to be played, "Blanky" ripped the cords, and that meant a 20-18 victory for L. H. S. Scoring honors went to "Shorty," Pete, and "Blanky" with 6 points apiece.

Jan. 30 Sayville fell victim to the Pappsmen. A last quarter splurge by the Bulldogs spelled doom to the Flashes. "Shorty" and "Smitty" each scored 6 points, Eddie 5, while Pete and "Blanky" had 4 apiece. Final score read 25-21. Incidentally, Sid Ellis had left school and Ed Kienle was put in his position.

Feb. 6 the Bulldogs journeyed to Port Jefferson, where they encountered amazing opposition. Although the Wave played a "sloppy" brand of ball, they emerged victorious by the slim count of 17-16. "Shorty" was high scorer with 7 points.

Feb. 13 Lindy played host to the Northport five. Scoring quickly, the Bulldogs took an early lead and held it throughout the game. Final score read 41-28. "Blanky" was tops with 14 points, while Pete had 13.

Feb. 20 the team toured to Babylon. Holding a slight lead, the Bulldogs faced defeat with 30 seconds remaining. However, Ed Kienle dribbled in for a lay-up and that spelled a 24-23 victory for the Green and White. Pete Halbin led the attack with 7 markers.

Feb. 27 Huntington invaded the local gym. A rough and tough game ensued with the home team emerging victorious by the score of 35-33. "Smitty's" mid-court heave, with 25 seconds remaining, spelled doom to the visitors. With the winning of this game, the Bulldogs of L. H. S. became the champions of Section I, with one game yet to be played. Blankenhorn, with 10 points, was high scorer.

March 6 the Wave travelled to meet the Bay Shore five. There they extended their winning streak to 13 straight. The final score of the final game read 33-20. "Shorty" was high man with 9 points.

Although composed of Freshmen, the Junior Varsity gave plenty of opposition to their opponents. Winning only five of their games, they still proved themselves to be promising material for next year's varsity.

Pete Halbin won the Benstock Trophy for being the most valuable player to the team; while John Blankenhorn won the Pinter Foul-Shooting Trophy.

ELLIS HIGH SCORER ON FOOTBALL SQUAD

SEPT. 20: The Green Wave, already set back by the pre-season loss of its stellar linesman, Pete Halbin, defeated an erratic Sayville squad 13-6. Willemssen and Blankenhorn tallied for Lindy, Munklewitz for the Flashes.

A confident band of Bulldogs invaded Manhasset only to be held to a 6-6 tie. Ellis went over for Lindenhurst, and Hansen tied it up for the Indians.

A 13-6 setback, Lindy's first, was administered by Bayshore's mighty Maroon. Walter Errickson ran roughshod over the Green and scored both touchdowns. Ellis tallied for Lindenhurst.

On the victory trail again the Bulldogs overpowered a weak Babylon eleven 12-0. Sid Ellis scored both times, once on a beautiful last-quarter dash of 60 yards.

A see-saw battle at Huntington saw Lindenhurst continue its losing ways. The Blue Devils won 19-14 on an 80 yard run by Johnson in the closing minutes. Ellis scored all Lindy's points.

Lindy's hopes for an easy victory over Amityville were stunningly shattered as Al Dujardin and Leo Colloco led the Red to a 12-0 triumph. Lindenhurst was completely checked throughout the contest.

THREE LETTERMEN RETURN TO 1942 BASEBALL LINEUP

ALTHOUGH only three lettermen, namely, Frank Willemssen, Johnny Blankenhorn, and Ed Kienle, returned to this year's lineup, Lindy's baseball team has enjoyed a fair measure of success.

As this year's issue of the Bulldog goes to press, the final standings of the Section I baseball teams are not known. However, the Lindy "nine" did play Islip, Mepham, Amityville, and Sayville. Out of the four scraps, they emerged victorious only over their arch-rivals from Amityville. In spite of their unenviable record, the team shows great promise, as most of the players are first year men and are acquiring much needed experience.

Ed Kienle, who bore the brunt of the batting this year, was still banging out those base hits when they counted. Frank Willemssen, third baseman of last year's team, cavorted at second this year, and did a commendable job. Johnny Blankenhorn took over the shortstop position and gave his usual best. Norman Laube did most of the pitching with Harry Nixon, Ed Clout, and Cliff Hartnack going in to relieve him whenever it was necessary.

ARCHERS MAKE OWN BOWS; SHOOT IN SEVERAL MEETS

UNDER the supervision of Miss Louise L. Samsel, adviser, the Linden Archers had a fairly successful season.

The spring of 1941 brought the Hempstead Meet in which Lindenhurst won no honors. However, the fall brought a busy season with Lindenhurst winning over Islip on Islip territory. This meet was novel, inasmuch, as the girls, who shot last, finished by bright moonlight. Although Babylon emerged victorious at the Lindenhurst-Babylon Meet, Lindy's Johanna Graser, with well over 300 points, was high scorer of all participants. In the fall Hempstead Meet, the team did nothing more than participate. With eight schools taking part, Lindenhurst placed fourth in the contest at Port Jefferson.

As a highlight of this season, the club members held a steak roast at Belmont State Park. This outing was enjoyed by all and their hopes are to repeat the experience soon again.

Some of the members, cooperating with Frank Campbell, the shop instructor, have made their own bows.

The officers of the club are: George Dinger, president; John Gamble, secretary; and Eric Vey, the captain of the green.

LINDY HONOR SQUAD BEATS BABYLON HOCKEY TEAM, 1-0

ALTHOUGH minus a field for practicing, the lucky Lindy 'leven were not prevented from registering to take part in the interscholastic hockey game.

Eleven vivacious girls, captained by Vivian Davis, managed by Dallas Tuff, and guided by Miss Marcella O'Shea, emerged unbeaten throughout the hockey season.

Their greatest triumph this season was, as in previous years, over the strong orange and black of Babylon, winning by the close score of 1-0.

Four class teams were formed which played at Farmingdale and Smithtown. Because of the excellent results of the teams, their successors will have no trouble living up to the fine records set for them.

SHORT BASKETBALL SEASON—FIVE FEMININE TEAMS

OPENING the season with an unusually large turn-out, the Girls' Basketball teams of 1942, under the able coaching of Miss Marcella O'Shea, proved to be a huge success. The five teams formed were captained by the following: Seniors, Anita Moeller; Juniors, Doris Bunn; Sophomores, Joan Martell; Freshmen, Frances Koehler; and Hinky Dinks, Helen Sachse. The girls met twice a week in the gym to participate in the intramurals. Since the girls only played inter-class games, the season was a short, but enjoyable one.

Driving on to victory were the Juniors, who took top honors without suffering a loss. Fighting just as hard for that top honor were the Seniors. Their prowess, however, was outdone by the Junior "six," thus leaving the Seniors with second place honors. Hinky Dinks, Frosh, and Sophs received the standing of 3rd, 4th, and 5th place respectively.

March 7, a group of six girls, Anita Moeller, Betty Fetner, Elsie Holub, Helen Schmidt, and Frieda Nottveit, and Marjorie Stuewe, attended a Basketball Playday at Riverhead. The playday proved to be a fitting conclusion to girls' basketball activities for 1942.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM BECOMES CHAMPS FOR SECOND TIME

FOR the second successive year the girls of the Lindenhurst Volleyball Honor Team won the Suffolk County Championship during the playday held at Bay Shore High School, January 10. Despite stiff competition, the green and white, captained by Marjorie Stuewe fought hard and emerged as the victors. The team, consisting of Vivian Davis, Anita Moeller, Frieda Nottveit, Betty Fetner, Dorothy Boehm, Marie Liebl, Rose Abbe, and Leonore Evertz, was chosen by the girls' coach, Miss Marcella O'Shea.

Lindy's scores were: Islip 7 — Lindenhurst 26; Central Islip 12 — Lindenhurst 17; Sayville 7 — Lindenhurst 20; Bay Shore 4 — Lindenhurst 14; Northport 11 — Lindenhurst 17. Betty Fetner, Dorothy Boehm, and Marjorie Stuewe were selected to play in the exhibition games.

Besides the playday games, the girls participated in intramurals several times a week. The outcome of this tournament showed that Elsie Holub's "Cornell" was tied with Doris Bunn's "Army" for the first position. Each team showed a record of having eight wins to one loss out of the total nine games played. The next places went to the following: Yale, Notre Dame, Navy, Amherst, Michigan, Princeton, Minnesota, and North Western.

CHEERLEADERS GIVE DANCE TO PAY FOR UNIFORMS

NEW uniforms were once again purchased by Lindy's Varsity cheerleaders, which were proudly displayed for the first time at the Bay Shore-Lindenhurst football game. To pay for the garments, the "yell" squad sponsored a dance in December, which resulted in a small profit.

This year's cheerleaders were Patricia Taylor, Mildred Kravis, Helen Panke, Helen Sachse, Helen Schmidt, Alice Barasch, and Virginia Scholer. They were instrumental in the creation of many new cheers, including the popular "swing" cheer. Several old school songs were revised and added to the list of perennial favorites.

In addition to the senior squad, Miss Blanche Pinnell, their adviser, aided by Coach Hopkins and Mr. Papps, chose Betty Kruger, Lucille Heling, and Frances Smith to fill the vacancies left in the Junior Varsity cheering section due to the advancement of last year's squad to the Varsity.

After all is said and done, the girls will be happy to know that the students of Lindy High are pleased with the way they encouraged the boys on to a victorious ending.

SENIORS CREATE PROGRAM COMMITTEE TO PLAN WORK

IN order to provide a smoother, better organized system of carrying on the activities of the Class of '42, a central program committee was created. It consisted of the class officers, Betty Younge, Peter Halbin, Marie Liebl, John Smith; and the G. O. representatives, Leonore Evertz, Frank Nash, Marjorie Stuewe, and Oscar Koehler. Since the officers desired to have a quota of ten committee members, three additional seniors, Gloria Franke, Anita Moeller, and John Lohman, were chosen to represent the class at large.

With a class yearbook surpassing all others as their objective, the committee set to work planning the season's schedule, which included the popular Gridiron Dances with the semi-formal Pigskin Prom as the grand finale, the Christmas Party, the Valentine Dance, and the Sink or Swim Dance.

Thus, having prepared a rigid schedule, which the senior class has successfully carried out, the Program Committee of the Class of '42 has served its purpose well.

BULLDOG ADDS NEW PHOTO OF OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

THIS year something new has been added to the list of features appearing in this yearbook, by way of what is known as the Honor Picture. The members of this picture were chosen for having accomplished something outstanding during the school year.

Seen in the photo are: John Blankenhorn, popular all-round athlete, who won the Pinter Trophy; Peter Halbin, another all-star athlete, who won the Benstock Trophy for being the most valuable player on the basketball team; Marjorie Stuewe, Anita Moeller, and Vivian Davis, who are the representatives of the girls' athletics, namely, volleyball, basketball, and hockey respectively; Frank Nash, who held the important position of G. O. president; Francine Holland, who edited the Broadcast for the 1941-42 season; Muriel Roskey, who represented the commercial honor society, the Beta Gamma; Betty Moore, who earned the coveted award of being valedictorian; and Gloria Franke, who edited the 1942 Bulldog and was the vice-president of the college entrance honor society, the Delta Sigma.

REFLECTIONS

- of you and your classmates upon your school life achieve immortality in a carefully planned and executed yearbook.

From the arid desert of Arizona, and the sultry green island of Puerto Rico, to the snow-blanketed slopes of Northern New England, we have traveled, happy and proud to have been an instrument in the translating into print, the humor pathos, excitement, and sentiment found in the campus

- life of over seventy-five colleges and preparatory schools.

As former members of yearbook staffs in our school days, we bring into our professional duties a real understanding

- of the many problems confronting each yearbook editor.
